The Wheels on the Bus

Beginning our new unit, 'How things work', the 2yo classes have begun to explore different kinds of transportation. Last week, we took a look at all kinds of land transportation: cars, buses, trains and big machines just to name a few. Beginning the day each week, we had the children chart how they came to school; either by walking, riding in a car, a bus or a bicycle. As Ms. Caitie is one of the only one's who walks to school in her class, several of your children have offered to let her use mommy's and daddy's car!

In art the 2's have had lots of fine motor practice gluing, painting, coloring and cutting. They have assembled a paper car, a dump truck collage, a class train and a fun tire track painting made by 'driving' toy cars through paint and then across the paper.

Gross motor skills were put to the test by racing the Little Tyke cars and tractors around on the rooftop.

In the following weeks we will continue talking about transportation focusing on water and air transport. Beep, beep! Honk, honk! Off we go!

GO ROUND

Lollipop Playground for the 2 yo's

What a great trip for the 2's! Yesterday we had smooth travels to Garden City mall were the 2's played on the indoor playground. The children stayed busy running from one activity to the next and teachers and parent volunteers had fun watching all the excitement. Thank you to all of those who volunteered; we appreciate your time and willingness!
